

The Chapel of the Three Violets Built June 2019

St. Marcellin Champagnat, founder of the Marist Brothers, described Marist spirituality to be like three violets that represent the Marist virtues of Simplicity, Modesty and Humility. This Chapel is named after those same Marist virtues.

It was built through the hard work and generosity of Marist Brothers, Lay Marists, and Marist Young Adults who traveled here to offer their time and talents in its building. Special thanks to Mr. John Allen, Mr. Marcus Allen and Mr. Ed Kennedy for their expertise in the design and construction of the chapel.
